NATURAL SOLUTIONS SERVICES AGREEMENT

May I thank you for selecting me to provide animal management and training services for your pet. You have asked me to perform training with your pet named above for purposes of reducing the likelihood that your pet will purposely encounter and approach a venomous rattlesnake. This program is called Rattlesnake Aversion Training. I would like to define my scope of work, the costs, and some of the risks and limitations of this work before we proceed.

Scope of Work: It is anticipated that I will provide the services specified in this agreement with the pet(s) named above according to the following scope of work.

- 1) I will obtain a history of your pets age, health and behavior. Based upon the information provided to me in the Pet Health and History Questionnaire (above), I might ask need to ask you further follow up questions. Prior to commencement of this aversion training it is important that you advise me of any known health problems that might make this training ill advised. It is suggested that you have your pet examined by a licensed veterinarian before we begin this work to make sure that there are no health limitations that would make this training contraindicated.
- 2) I will provide the necessary training equipment for purposes of implementing the aversion training. This will include electric stimulus collars, leashes and liverattlesnakes.
- 3) Using this equipment I will train your pet named above in one session by use of behavioral aversive training techniques to have an aversive behavioral response to a rattlesnake. Any additional or reinforcement sessions are certainly recommended, but are beyond the scope of this agreement.
- 4) During this training I will advise you of and allow you to observe the outcome, and then counsel you regarding recommended follow up reinforcement training that would be advisable in the future.

Limitations and Risks

Before you agree to have me perform the scope of work outlined above, it is important that you understand the limitations and risks of this proposal, and that you give an informed consent.

- 1) All behavioral training techniques including the work defined in the above scope of work have limitations, including but not limited to the following major limitations.
  - a) There may still be a small risk that, after training, your pet will encounter and fail to avoid contact with a venomous reptile.
  - b) Behavioral training may lose effectiveness over time unless reinforced with further training sessions.
- 2) The specific technique I will use may have the following risks of harm to your pet.
  - a) The venomous reptiles I will use in this training will be muzzled. All precautions will be taken to ensure the safety of your pet, our trainers and the snakes. Although the risk is VERY SMALL, there is still a chance the snake can envenomate and can possibly inflict other injury to your pet.

Conclusion and Agreement to Provide Services

If the above scope of work meets with your approval in light of the limitations and risks involved, I will be very pleased to commence my work. Please then sign this services agreement below, and upon receipt of the fee for the costs and expenses I will commence the training.
